"GenF20 Plus®: Advanced HGH Releaser & Anti-Aging Support 🌟"

Product Overview

GenF20 Plus® is the #1 rated HGH Releaser available on the market today, targeting those who wish to fight aging and restore youthful appearance and vitality.

It's a clear winner in the anti-aging market space where there are imposters abound; GenF20 Plus® stands out not only because it's doctor endorsed -- but because it's enthusiastically recommended by clients.

As you age, your HGH (human growth hormone) levels begin to drop off.

And as science has proven, this decrease in HGH directly correlates to how rapidly your body begins to age, affecting everything from your appearance (sagging, wrinkles) to your muscle tone, fat retention, memory, sex drive, energy levels, and more!

GenF20 Plus® helps your body to safely and naturally restore the HGH levels of your youth, literally REVERSING aging, all without costly and potentially dangerous injections of synthetic HGH.

It's a dietary supplement known as an "HGH Releaser" that contains a special, scientifically formulated combination of amino acids, nutrients, and peptides...

... All designed to kick start your pituitary gland into NATURALLY releasing more of your own HGH!

Benefits can include a more youthful appearance, increased muscle tone, fat loss, increased metabolism, a super-charged sex drive, boundless energy, and more.

For the vast majority of individuals, invasive surgeries and expensive anti-aging injections are simply out of the question. Yet they're still seeking an anti-aging solution...

... Safe, affordable, and doctor endorsed as a 100% natural HGH Releaser, GenF20 Plus® presents an exciting income opportunity for affiliates interested in the anti-aging market space.

Compliance

1) Please do not make comparisons between GenF20 and the product known as SeroVital. They have also agreed not to make references to GenF20 Plus in their advertising.
2) If you use our GenF20 study (which is perfectly fine), and you want to point out that there was a 28% increase in IGF-1, please make sure to say that the increase was an increase in IGF-1, not in HGH. (IGF-1 rises when HGH rises, and the test looked for IGF-1, not directly for HGH.)

By the same token, do not use any numeric figure for a rise in HGH itself, such as stating that HGH rose by 50% or any other percentage.

3) Please insert this statement into the footer: "The study did not measure for a direct increase in HGH." Please insert it even if your ad copy does not discuss the study on that page. It should be in the same size and font as the average size and font on the page.

4) When you list the benefits of GenF20 Plus, please indicate that those benefits are "associated with" HGH, and avoid stating directly that they are benefits of GenF20 Plus. This is simply the correct way to present efficacy benefits for an HGH product.

So, for example, when you want to claim that GenF20 Plus will cause muscle growth, state instead that "HGH has been associated with muscle growth." If you are going to use a long list of benefits, you can use introductory language like: "GenF20 Plus is designed to release HGH, and the benefits associated with HGH include..."

"Some of the health benefits associated with HGH are..."

The variations are limitless.

If you need guidance on any of this, please contact your affiliate manager.
